Visiting Sea Scouts Enjoy Mattapoissett

By Marilou Newell

Mattapoissett rolled out the welcome mat for Sea Scouts visiting from Pennsylvania on June 19. With the assistance of Harbormaster Jill Simmons and locals willing to help the Scouts see as much as possible during their short stay, Ship 25 hailing from York, PA, tied up.

The day started out rather wet with low misty skies, not perfect for sailing. Undeterred, the Scouts under Skipper George Kain headed out of Fall River en route to Mattapoissett. As they sailed away from Battleship Cove where they had taken in the ships and history of Fall River, Kain – with the able assistance of seasoned trans-Atlantic sailor (and former Sea Scout) Brian Kurzik and five young Sea Scouts – navigated through glass-like waters. Kain said the trip was one of the most beautiful he has experienced in a long career of sailing the eastern seaboard.

By the time the boat navigated into Mattapoissett Harbor, the skies had cleared, giving the Scouts one of the most spectacular summer days the region has enjoyed thus far. And that was just the beginning for Dakota Prize, 17 (BSA Eagle looking forward to a U.S. Coast Guard career); Pat Clemens, 17 (Boatswain for the ship, three years with BSA and Sea Scouting heading for a maritime education and career); Andrew Ankers, 15 (green Sea Scout on his first long voyage); Candace Kottmyer, 18 (the only female on-board, heading to Penn State in the fall, embarked on her third long voyage in three years of Scouting); and Kyle Roy, 16 (another green Sea Scout learning the ropes). These Scouts all began their Scouting careers in either the Boy Scouts or Girls Scouts before advancing into the more rigorous and exacting Sea Scouting program.

They hail from the greater York, PA area, a landlocked location where one wouldn't expect an ocean-based program. Yet Kain, whose naval background wouldn't be stilled upon retirement, brought Sea Scouting to the town. Kain served in the U.S. Navy for seven years and has owned and operated various types of boats since childhood. His résumé includes participation in the Bermuda race out of Marion and sailing from Cape Hatteras to Nova Scotia as well as other ports-of-call along the eastern seaboard. He explained that although one wouldn't expect a sailing program to be offered in a land-locked location, there is access to the Chesapeake Bay about 65 miles east. So once a week, the Sea Scouts gather for the hour-long trip to the coast where they can learn and experience firsthand the skills necessary for safe sailing. Kain said with the program, "...Sea Scouting gives kids a seafaring experience they otherwise might not know about..." regardless of their location.

The group drove from Pennsylvania to Groton, CT where they boarded the 32-foot Endeavor, built in 1979, that had been loaned to them for the trip. From there, they sailed to Newport then on to Fall River before making landfall in Mattapoisett.

On shore, they were greeted by Emily Newell, 15, Mattapoisett, sophomore at ORRHS and second year Sea Scout with Ship 40 out of East Falmouth, along with her mother, Diane Newell (former GSA and Sea Scout) and grandfather, Alan Beal (retired Chief Warrant Officer, USCG and Sea Scout Skipper). Beal and Kain met through the Scouting program about ten years ago and have been instrumental in assisting each other's programs over the years.

After enjoying a refreshing cold shower at the town beach bathhouse, the Scouts were treated to a private tour of the Mattapoisett Historical Society Museum, which is now in preparation for its summer opening. Curator Elizabeth Hutchinson graciously opened the museum doors in advance of the official season start on June 26. The Scouts found this precious gem a real surprise and enjoyed the variety of exhibits it holds.

Next up was the New Bedford Whaling Museum, a must-see attraction on their itinerary. One of the most intriguing parts of the museum for these visitors was the half-scale model of the Bark Lagoda, an 89-foot tribute to Jonathan Bourne that was built in 1915 with funding from his daughter. At another exhibit, the Scouts got into the spirit by climbing the full-scale replica of a whaling ship "fo'c'sle," or forecastle, giving them both a below-deck and on-deck reality check. Clearly, modern conveniences were on the Scouts' minds against the stark reality of what life was like on a whaling ship in the 1800s. Cell phone cameras captured the moment. Then it was back to the 21st century and Nick's Pizza, after which the Scouts hung out with the local kids at the first summer wharf dance.

At 9:00 am on June 20, under another sun-drenched day, the sailboat headed gently out of Mattapoisett Harbor with Newell on board to help maneuver them into Woods Hole. There the Scouts will meet up with the Falmouth crew for more sailing and camping adventures.

The Scouts headed back to their point of origin on Monday, June 23. They sailed out of Woods Hole to Block Island and then returned to Groton. Bos'n Clemens said, "Our trip has been wonderful. I've seen things I wouldn't normally see living in central Pennsylvania and the people in New England have been beyond nice." As for first mate Kurzik, he said, "I think I've found my new home. Mattapoissett Man Shares Poignant Life Story

By Jean Perry

It was not Derek DeCosta's intent to write a book telling the story of his traumatic childhood when he sat down to write a foreword to a fitness book he planned to market in Korea. But when he began writing about his Korean roots, the dam that for years had held back a river of repressed memories and emotions burst, and The Moonlight King floated up from the tormented waters that flowed from the reconciliation with his painful past.

Born Yoon Sang Kyun, DeCosta lived a privileged life as the only son to his father and loving mother – until one day when he was five years old and his life changed forever. Innocence was soon lost, and the nightmare of the next eight years of his life began.

DeCosta describes in vivid, agonizing detail how his parents would divorce, and DeCosta and his older sister would be hastily sent late one night to the United States and adopted by a single mother in Hyannis, Massachusetts. The children are imprisoned and enslaved by the woman and her son, enduring years of every possible form of torture and abuse.

The book documents the harrowing process of DeCosta's journey from the darkness of his childhood into the triumphant light of becoming a free man and a successful adult.

On the evening of June 19, DeCosta shared his message of transcendence through forgiveness and love with dozens of people during an author's talk at the Elizabeth Taber Library in Marion.

"I didn't write the book to write a book," said DeCosta, calling it a form of release – a "cathartic purge" – a letting go of demons.

When DeCosta started the book, his words began to assemble shocking sentences, which developed into painful paragraphs, progressing on to bone-chilling chapters. DeCosta said he did not stop to read his own story until a few days after he finished it.

"That was difficult ... to relive childhood," said DeCosta, "in living color – with no buffer."

Throughout his tumultuous life, DeCosta has been both a sprinter and a runner of proverbial marathons, and the readers will find themselves running alongside him, cheering him on from the sidelines as he tries to reach the ever-retreating finish line. There is relief when, finally, he does.

When DeCosta talks, people listen. There is an invisible light that emanates from his words of encouragement and inspiration as he speaks, and his message resonates on some level with the experiences of all people.

DeCosta's struggle adds pathos and ethos to the insight, wisdom, and advice that he weaves into every page. Forgiveness and love are the keys that finally unshackle DeCosta as he realizes his own self worth and asserts his right to an important and meaningful life.

His writing style is poetic but easy to read, using powerful language and descriptive imagery to describe the ugliest of experiences and feelings. If DeCosta's experiences are the thorns, this book is the rose.

DeCosta resides in Mattapoisett and he is a fitness trainer, life coach, and mentor. Seated inside the Taber

Sending Off Students – RMS Style

By Jean Perry

Every year on the last day of school, the students at Rochester Memorial School get a grand goodbye from staff and faculty, and this year was Principal Derek Medeiros's first send-off.

Medeiros said he first heard about the big send-off when he was interviewed for the principal position.

"I actually saw it on YouTube," said Medeiros. "What I saw on the video was amazing, and I knew I wanted to be a part of it."

While the students were still getting ready to leave the school for the last time this school year, Chris Williamson, who provides instruction for instruments and percussion, was behind the school setting up drums, maracas, tambourines, and other implements of mass percussion for the teachers and staff to play once the kids were aboard the buses and driven around and around the rear parking lot before driving off.

"We've been doing it a long time," said Williamson. "It's one of the end of the year traditions that's so much fun."

Sixth grade teacher Danni Kleiman organized the staff members and acted as conductor for the faculty members, who would be playing songs like "When the Saints Go Marching In."

Meanwhile, a steady stream of excited kids poured out the front doors of the school and headed toward the school buses. There was an extra skip in their step, and many were wiggling, giggling, and cheering as they made their way to the buses.

Some kids were chanting, "The last day of school is the best day of school!" over and over, jumping for joy and waving goodbye to their schoolmates.

Williamson said she feels lucky to be a part of the tradition. "They (the staff) grab whatever they can and make a lot of noise." And make noise, they did indeed.

The teachers and staff selected their instruments – with Medeiros on the slide trombone – and began practicing the songs before the buses brought the students before them at 12:30 pm.

And then the first bus peaked around the corner and drove past the teachers, office administration, and janitors, you name it, who were all by the edge of the drive, dancing and swaying, playing music and waving, while hundreds of hands slipped out the open bus windows and waved wildly back.

One after another, the buses drove past, making a wide circle around the rear parking lot and then swinging around again past the staff, who continued to make noise, wave, and smile.

Round and round the buses drove, until that first bus headed out of the lot and the others followed. All the while, students and teachers waved until the last bus pulled out from sight.

That is when the staff members let out a huge roaring cheer before putting down their instruments and

"And this is a perfect example of that," said Medeiros.

It Is A Privilege

This Mattapoisett Life

By Marilou Newell

Most of us do it. We think nothing of it. If we've done it for any length of time, we consider doing it normal, necessary, and just part of living in this here U.S. of A. When we first started doing it, we were thrilled beyond our wildest dreams, experiencing each occasion as if it were the first time. Now that your imagination has riled up wondering what I might be referring to, I'll tell you ... I'm talking about driving a car.

During a recent road-trip with my husband and granddaughter – a seven-hour journey to Montreal – I came to realize just how much we take driving for granted. And yet, it isn't at all natural like walking. It is a learned behavior, a skill really, requiring that one understand the rules of the road (hopefully) and have

Animal Advice

FERRETS

I am thinking about getting a pet ferret. Will a ferret get along with my child and dog?

Ferrets and dogs usually get along fine. Ferrets should not be left alone with small children as these animals seem to be attracted to fats in kid's skin and may bite.

Do ferrets require special care?

A home must be "ferret proofed" to avoid escape and ingestion of rubber and plastic items. Ferrets should eat ferret food or a premium quality dry kitten food.

What routine veterinary care do ferrets require?

Ferrets are very susceptible to canine distemper and require annual vaccinations for this disease as well as for rabies. Ferrets older than 3 years old frequently develop cancer of the adrenal glands, pancreas and lymphatic system.

a respectful attitude towards other drivers (hopefully). Failing these, there is nothing but chaos on the roadways. At any given moment, it could all turn to disaster.

My husband, God love him, is a hater when it comes to other drivers. Being a passenger as he drives his much beloved car can be rather stressful. He spent his professional life behind the wheel of heavy emergency vehicles. For him, driving and operating a motor vehicle is second nature. He is a good driver. But if looks could kill, and if anyone could hear his assessments of nearly every other driver, well let's just say ears would be burned off.

Since I retired and spend more time with him in the car, I take a book with me. Being distracted by reading mitigates my stress level, and it gives me a way to dampen his narrative concerning other drivers. This aside, he is correct in fearing other drivers. One small mistake, one careless maneuver, and as the saying goes, "that's all she wrote."

Once upon a time, I loved driving. I worked hard to earn my privilege to drive and have been a lawful driver for forty years. Back in the day, driver's education was a fairly new concept. It was a right of passage from being a 'kid' to being a responsible young adult. But unlike today, it was a time when one didn't automatically expect the family car to be made available simply because one had gotten a license. Most of the families I knew had one automobile, and whether it was a wreck or beauty, it was a valued possession.

My mother never learned to drive. Dad tried teaching her in an empty lot behind our home on Spring Street in Marion. Poor soul, she was a nervous wreck trying to pay attention to his instructions while little kids fidgeted in the backseat. The clutch pedal was her enemy, and the column shift never cooperated with her effort to put it into gear. As she ground the gears in gut retching agony, my parents would quarrel. Inevitably, Ma exited the running vehicle in the field stomping back to the house. Dad was left wondering what went wrong.

Years later, I sat in driver's ed class a discouraged and depressed 15-year old kid. Lacking any type of confidence in myself, I believed I was not smart enough to pass the written portion of the exam. An absence of support from the home front didn't help me either. I dropped out of class.

By the time I was 23 and a young mother, driving became an imperative. I needed to work. I obtained a copy of "The Rules of the Road." I was determined to learn the information. I memorized the entire manual. To this day, some of those sentences come back like passages from the Bible, much to the chagrin of my husband. I occasionally find myself mixing a verse from Psalms with proper distances from other cars in the misguided hope that he'll hear me. Amen.

Driving gave me freedom, a ticket to higher education, an ability to earn a living, and a sense of empowerment. Thanks to driving, I've travelled many thousands of miles for both work and pleasure, and I've taught several others how to master America's favorite machine – the automobile.

From an early age, my son learned how to shift the yellow VW bug I owned. He'd place his tiny hand on top of mine and a-shifting we would go. There were many Sunday afternoons when I placed him on my lap and together we'd slowly drive along bog roads out in the boondocks. Those are precious moments I remember, although probably not a very safe thing to do in retrospect. This was before the advent of seatbelts, airbags, and the importance of children's car seats.

Today, it's common to find a driveway with at least two cars, but more likely up to four. There they rest in gleaming acknowledgement that the CAR is a necessity and as significant as the home it's parked in front of.

But again, it wasn't until recently that I truly appreciated just what an act of faith driving really is. Not only does one need to believe in oneself, you've got to believe in all the other people operating cars around you. Today, that leap of faith seems a very high vault.

Many young people seem to drive as if they are sitting on the living room floor playing a video game. How many times have you witnessed a driver weaving dangerously through lanes of traffic, mindless that at any second that hole in a ribbon of cars might close before they can ram their way into the slot. Yet, it isn't just the young that make driving so much more dangerous. You have to factor in the speeds we accelerate to and the introduction of electronic devices.

Enter the cell phone. There you are innocently on your way to the grocery store when you notice another driver talking on a cell phone. The most flagrant violators seem to be young women and oftentimes, young women with small children in the backseat. That they don't sense how horrifyingly dangerous this is defies logic. Suffice it to say that if I see anyone on a cell phone, I give them a very wide berth.

And then there are us, the senior citizens. Not all of us are good drivers. Not all of us should still be driving. My friend lives in the Palm Springs, California area. She says that every winter when the snowbirds return from northern states she prepares her mind for Ninja-style defensive driving saying, "...it's like doing battle every time I leave my house."

She recently was in a small accident with an older senior citizen who was apparently on the way to a doctor's appointment. The ole gal suddenly changed lanes without noticing my friend was lawfully in the lane already. The lady was so shaken by her lapse in motor vehicle safety she could barely speak. My friend ended up driving her to the doctor's office. She told my friend she was distracted thinking about the doctor and accepted responsibility. My friend suggested that she might want to stop driving soon, noting the advanced age of the lady and the numerous dents in her car. Clearly this hadn't been her first mistake. The lady responded emphatically and with anger, "No way!"

My aunt (the last one standing) just gave up driving. She did so voluntarily. Out of necessity, she had earned her driver's license late in life. Her husband had become too sick to drive. Since his passing, she has more or less relied on her daughter to take her places, so driving is less relevant. Good thing too, as reports are that her driving often inspired fear.

My non-driving mother and aunt used to pal around together from time to time. One thing I'll give my mother credit for was being a good passenger. She knew when her life was in danger. Of her sister-in-law's driving, she said and I quote, "She is a horrible driver!" My aunt tried her best and left no carnage in her wake. That her children didn't need to intervene on behalf of society at large is a good thing.

Such was not the case with my Father. Even after suffering a very traumatic head injury, he immediately (within hours) went about getting himself a set of wheels. Towards the end of his driving career, he wasn't going very far and for me it was convenient that he could drive and do the shopping.

One day, while slowly cruising down Route 6 heading home, his vehicle was struck by a car entering from a side street. A very young, very pregnant woman in an SUV smacked into his rear passenger door. That he was cited at the scene for causing the accident speaks volumes to him being victimized for being an elderly driver. We fought that and were able to get the citation overturned after much effort. My husband was his champion. He wasn't going to let Dad's nearly eight decades of accident-free driving be blemished if he could help it.

When I talked to my parents about how the accident happened, my mother said (this is precious), "Well if I had had my eyes open it wouldn't have happened." Flummoxed, I asked her what she meant. Clearly Dad hadn't caused the accident or been at fault in any way. Ma responded that she helped him drive by telling him what was doing on around the car as they tooled along. That's when I knew the time had come for Dad to surrender his license.

To get this man who had spent so many years driving whenever, wherever he pleased to stop driving wasn't going to be easy. The conversation with him didn't go well. He simply said, "NO!" and variations of "You can't make me." He planned on driving until he croaked. We engaged his doctor. When we finally got him into the exam room, the doctor announced with little fanfare that she'd be contacting the registry to have his license terminated, that it was her professional duty to do so, and she was sure he didn't want to be responsible for hurting anyone. He smiled at her and said, "OK, whatever you say, sweetheart." He went in like a lion and out like a lamb.

Driving is a privilege. I wish they taught that with greater fervor in driving classes, especially given the power of modern day vehicles and seemingly, everyone's need for speed.

I hope that when the time comes for me to stop driving, I do so with as much dignity as my Aunt demonstrated. I hold no illusions that I'll be driving until the bitter end. Maybe like my Mother, I'll be a really good passenger and help other people drive from where I'm sitting in the passenger seat, like I do now with my husband. But I can vouch for how he'll react to becoming a permanent passenger. Note to family: Best to gird your loins now.

Inductees Enter ORR Athletic Hall of Fame

By Jean Perry

The Old Rochester Regional Athletic Hall of Fame welcomed a number of new inductees on June 21 during an induction ceremony, and many of the ORR alumni athletes inducted this year said they were surprised and felt honored to be chosen.

"I didn't believe it," said former trainer Andrew Mendes, honored for his significant contribution to ORR sports. "I thought it was amazing." Mendes said he used to be a disciplinarian at ORR, in charge of detention and suspension. The mean guy, basically – the respected guy.

"I thought, 'you got the wrong guy,'" said Mendes laughing, recalling when he received the letter informing him of the honor.

ORR football star Peter Borsari, who was also voted "biggest mouth" according to the photograph slideshow during the buffet-style dinner, said being inducted was "the ultimate individual accomplishment in a completely team game."

"Obviously, it's a great honor to be recognized after so many years," said Borsari. "And for playing a sport that I loved."

Charles Jefferson, a graduate of the school's first graduating class of 1962, was an all-star football player and captain of ORR's first football team. He also played baseball, basketball, and track.

During his acceptance speech, Jefferson disclosed a bit of ORR history when he told everyone in attendance how the team came to be known as the ORR Bulldogs.

After a football game against Dighton-Rehoboth when the ORR "Red Wings" won 14-6, the coach told Jefferson that he played with the intensity of a bulldog, and instructed Jefferson to announce to the student body that the Red Wings would from then on be known as the Bulldogs. Apparently, no one at the induction ceremony had ever heard that story before.

Gretchen Hamer McDonald, who played volleyball, basketball, and track, said the personal nomination letter written to her from an underclassman that went to school with McDonald touched her the most

"It made me proud," said McDonald, who said she really did not remember who the student was that wrote the letter, but it was clear that she remembered McDonald. "It made me realize that I had a positive effect on someone. That letter really made me feel good when she said that I made her feel good."

McDonald's young foster daughter Alyssa Silva never knew her foster mom was such a gifted athlete, and McDonald has been introducing Alyssa to a number of different sports. Alyssa shyly confessed that her favorite sport now is basketball.

Mattapoisett ZBA Reorganizes
Mattapoisett Zoning Board of Appeals
By Marilou Newell

Due to the recent retirement of Jeff Chase as Chairman and regular member of the Mattapoisett Zoning Board of Appeals, the board needed to fill several openings. Their goal during the June 19 meeting was solely for this purpose. They needed to select an alternate member to move up to a regular member position, choose a chairman, and select a clerk.

With the full board in attendance, they did just that.

The board is comprised of regular members: Paul Millott, Jr., (Dec. 1999 - April 2018); Susan Akin (Feb 2000

- April 2016); Mary Ann Brogan (March 2002 - April 2017); and Norman Lyonna (October 2008 - April 2015). From this list, they voted Susan Akin to be Chairman and Mary Ann Brogan to be clerk.

The alternates to this board are: Stephen Vaites (July 2002 - April 2010, term has expired and is scheduled to be renewed); Kenneth Pacheco (Feb 2006 - April 2019); Eugene DesLanders (June 2009 - April 2015); Colby Rottler (July 2009 - April 2015); and Tony Tranfaglia (April 2003 - April 2016). This group was asked by Akin to share their level of interest in moving up to a regular slot on the board. Declining the opportunity were Vaites, citing other commitments, and DesLanders due to seasonal migration to warmer climates. Expressing an interest in moving up were Pacheco, Rottler and Tranfaglia. In the end, this group selected the member for the regular slot based on seniority - Kenneth Pacheco.

The next meeting of the Mattapoisett ZBA is scheduled for July.

Brandt Point Village to Seek Legal Action

Mattapoisett Conservation Commission

By Marilou Newell

At the end of a very long evening of applications and hearings, Curtis Mello, a principal in the sub-division named Brandt Point Village, came before the Mattapoisett Conservation Commission to discuss the replication area required in their permit. After some discussion regarding the best season in which to begin the construction work, Mello received approval to have that replication work completed by the end of September. During the discussion, he also shared that Brandt Island Realty Trust plans on seeking legal action on the decision from the Planning Board to decline an amendment to their permit that would increase the number of bedrooms in the homes from two to three. Mello said that they need the more marketable three-bedroom units in order to make the subdivision attractive to buyers. He said it is their position that the number of bedrooms cannot be regulated by the Planning Board but by the DEP and the capacity of the septic system.

Another matter before the commission, one which garnered significant time, was a request for an amended order of conditions filed by Daniel and Daneen Eilertsen, 20 Water Street. They were seeking to extend an upper level plateau an additional 29 feet on the harbor side. They have removed from their plans a pool and patio area on the seaward side of the property and have begun work on a long-neglected seawall and pier. ConCom members viewed the request as acceptable, given that wave action and associated energy from storms would be lessened with this type of earthen structure. However, Raymond Cebula, an interested party, wasn't convinced. Lengthy discussion ensued, with various commission members attempting to assuage Cebula's concerns that such a structure would actually increase the possibility of ocean surge reaching across Water Street with oceanographic knowledge of wave action. Cebula remained unconvinced. He also questioned why a project he was involved with on Mattapoisett Neck was not allowed to bring in fill, yet this project was. The commission members speculated that maybe there were other considerations that made his project less viable for the introduction of fill. After answering all his questions, ConCom moved to amend the order of conditions to allow the extension after the completion of the seawall repairs.

Blue Wave LLC's Aidan Foley and engineer Rick Charon were back before ConCom to discuss their continued work with peer review engineer Gary James, storm water management plan updates, and traffic noise studies on their proposed solar farm on Crystal Spring Road. Foley said that by the next meeting on July 14, they hope to present the full traffic noise study. Charon said that he thought by that day they would also have received a final report from James. With those pieces of information in place, the applicant will return in the hope of receiving a negative finding from the commission so the project can move forward to the next stage – going before the ZBA on July 17.

In other business, Brian Grady of GAF Engineering discussed the ongoing review of storm water management problems at the Appaloosa Lane sub-division. Grady didn't have any conclusions to share at the present time. He said that by the July 14 meeting, he would have better evidence to determine the water table issues and plans for improving storm water drainage. Once again, abutters complained bitterly about the longstanding and ongoing problems with water running onto their property from this sub-division. Chairman Peter Newton said that they needed to give the engineer and developer an opportunity to work through the problems in order to come up with a plan.

Traffic Concerns for Cranberry Highway

Rochester Planning Board

By Jean Perry

Can't you read, truck drivers? That is what Rochester Planning Board members and abutters living at the Route 28 and Route 58 intersection want to know.

Concerns over traffic flow, congestion, and illegal tractor-trailer truck parking dominated the June 24 discussion over a planned access road that will serve the proposed Seasons filling station on a lot carved from the Makepeace property behind it. These concerns resulted in a continuance of the public hearing until July 8.

"It's very dangerous. There is at least one accident a month at that corner," said Louise Hebert of 617 County Road. "I don't think truck drivers can read," she stated, describing how trucks still park along the highway, even right next to the 'No Parking' signs. "They have no regard for anyone at all."

Board members also told Engineer Phil Cordeiro that the turn onto the proposed access road is not wide enough for tractor-trailer trucks to make the turn, which simply is not allowed and must be fixed before approval. Chairman Arnold Johnson added that he thought the roadway would not be sufficient enough for traffic.

The plans reflect two entrances into the proposed Seasons station property, and after some concerns of the board and the police chief, Cordeiro changed the plans to reflect a right turn only exit onto Route 58, which pleased the board. However, they did not like the planned low-level island to prevent the left-hand turn, saying it would not be effective enough.

Johnson was adamant that no one would pay attention to the right turn only sign and would ignore the low-level island, admitting that he himself will sometimes turn left in other places when told not to.

"I think we actually have to keep this one open until we rule on the application (for the Seasons station)," said Johnson. Cordeiro explained earlier than he could not predict traffic flow study results, and Colbea Enterprises, LLC is responsible for providing traffic study data in the near future.

Johnson said the board could not approve the proposed stubs for the ingress and egress points just in case traffic study results dictate a change in the location of the stubs.

Board member Susan Teal expressed concerns over a possible property line dispute, which could give rise to property line buffer issues.

Board member Gary Florindo said he went to the Seasons station in Randolph one day prior to the meeting and he was impressed by the cleanliness and organization of the business.

Also during the meeting, the board approved using a covenant rather than a dollar bond for the Connet Woods thoroughway road construction, which Tim Higgins, representative for Connet Woods, said could cost up to $4 million.

rather than a dollar bond, asked Teal?

"The risk is that the road doesn't get finished," said Johnson. "The Town would have to finish it or sell to a new developer."

Higgins said property values are rising significantly and steadily at Connet Woods.

"Frankly, we aren't going anywhere," said Higgins. "We are going to finish this project."

A covenant is allowable under the special conditions of the approval and the board voted in favor of the covenant.

To the Editor:

I've just had the opportunity to view the ORR Joint School Committee meeting held on June 2, 2014, where the issue of Good Friday was discussed and voted on. It's available at ORCTV (<http://orctv.org/>) in its entirety on the VIMEO channel (cable stations may not show the entire meeting). For those who haven't viewed it, I'd like to summarize what I saw so that others can form their own opinions.

The Joint Committee had previously voted in March to have school on that day, which has traditionally been a day away from school since the school system was established. This new vote on June 2nd was whether to change the original vote and instead have Good Friday as a day off. The vote went against the opinions of many in our community, which was to continue with no school that day. It was truly an eye-opener for me to see how this decision was made. Sadly, it was painfully obvious that there are personal agendas (from a select few Committee members) involved in making this change, which in my opinion have no place in a democratically elected role.

There were several speakers who made some very good points. One take-away was that the Committee had not performed due diligence before coming to the original decision. A reasonable and informed process could not be carried out because data didn't exist on how this would affect the community, how many teachers could be expected to ask for the day off as personal time, how many students would not attend that day, what the statistics were from other school systems who have dealt with this issue, etc. The original decision was pushed forward without any facts on how this would affect the community.

Interestingly, at this meeting, some unofficial data was presented which the Committee chose to ignore. I heard some statistics about the Bourne public school system – the fact that they have had classes on Good Friday for some time, and that only three persons took the day off last year. It was mentioned that Bourne has a parochial school system, which would have an effect on those numbers. There were no other school systems discussed to my knowledge.

Maggie McGee from Rochester and other representatives from Marion and Mattapoisett had gathered about 700 signatures from people in the community opposed to this change, and it was also dismissed out-of-hand since it wasn't an official poll and the signatures couldn't be verified. I found that to be extremely insulting to those that worked very hard in gathering this data. One can only imagine how many more people would have signed the petition if they had the opportunity. The fact that so many people went out of their way to do this should speak volumes, but again some members of the Committee ignored it.

The suggestion was made that the school calendar for this coming year should include Good Friday off in order to provide more time to gather data, and the issue be revisited for calendar year 2015-2016. This was an excellent suggestion, but it would have placed the personal agendas of some members of the Committee at risk, and wasn't voted on.

There were many comments from various Committee members stating they were interested in "what was best for the children" which I found to be entirely false. The decision to have the full day off before Thanksgiving was based on low attendance (I believe it was stated that 17% of students take the half-day off), meaning not much learning takes place. And, statistics from the principals of a couple of the schools stated that in their very recent polls of teachers, 25% admitted they would not attend school on Good Friday. (One can only guess how many didn't want to admit this to their bosses but will do so anyway.) So, this same logic was put aside in the interest of personal agendas.

The increased cost to the district for substitute teachers was also put aside. With many teachers taking the day, it would prove to be an unreasonable, expensive change to the school calendar. I believe the budgets are difficult enough as it is without wasting money.

Someone stated that federal law does not prevent school districts from closing school on certain days, depending on the needs and wants of the particular community. I also didn't hear any opinions from lawyers who could explain what the federal and state laws have to say on this subject. It would seem that the Committee would want to get some expert legal advice before making this kind of decision.

Last but not least, our own Superintendent, Doug White, cautioned the Committee in the strongest but most polite terms, that school safety is a definite concern if many teachers take the day off. To go against his recommendation makes no logical sense.

I hate to say this, but this certainly seems to be a power issue, with some stubbornness and dare I say, arrogance, on the part of some Committee members. To dismiss the concerns of the community who elected them is not what the members were elected to do. With this in mind, I have strong concerns about how other issues will be handled in the future. I propose that we all remember this at election time.

I will not be sending my daughter to school on Good Friday, and I hope others do the same. We need to send a message to the elected members of our Committee that the opinions of their constituents, school principals, teachers and Superintendent count. This was an important decision that should have been handled in a democratic way.

*Respectfully,
Susan Bruce, Rochester*

To the Editor:

Thank you to all that have donated to Bill and his daughters' Pan-Mass Challenge ride this year so far.

Last year, Bill rode in memory of his mom. This year, his daughters Amanda and Lindsay, will make their first 192-mile ride in memory and support of all those friends and family we have lost or have been recently diagnosed this year.

If you would like to support Bill and his girls on this journey, you may make donations on the Pan-Mass

Mystery novels in familiar local settings for summer reading

Clement R. Beaulieu of Fairhaven presents two historical mystery novels.

His first mystery novel, Bad Lucky Number, published in 2011, is set in the Southcoast area of MA, circa 1930, during Prohibition and the Great Depression.

The newly released Round Corners follows some of the same characters ten years later, circa 1940, and the era of World War II.

Mattapoisett Road Race: I Don't Run!

If you're thinking to yourself, "I don't run, so why go into the village on the 4th of July?" there are several reasons to be there. The Harpoon Harmonizers will be performing before the Race and singing the National Anthem at the start of the Race. The Inn at Shipyard Park (formerly the Mattapoisett Inn) will be serving a light breakfast from 8:30 - 11:00 am. Lunch service will start at 11:30 am. There will be a beer tasting sponsored by Buzzards Bay Brewery from 10:00 am - 12:00 noon, and Butch McCarthy will provide entertainment. The Town Wharf General Store will be open from 8:00 am - 2:00 pm. Body in Balance's Jessica Cavaco will be doing a warm-up for runners. Spectators could probably do a little warming up if they wanted. The Barley Family Healthcare and Rehab will have their tent set up for post-race massages for runners.

If you live along the race route, you can decorate your yard, play music and compete for the coveted "Most Spirited Home" award. Winning this award will take some serious effort if you want to defeat past winners, the Kassabian family and the Dall family. But it might be fun to give it a shot.

When you come down to Shipyard Park or anywhere along the race route, you will see race officials in bright orange shirts. These individuals can provide whatever assistance you may need. You also can offer thanks to the Race's Founding Father and Founding Mother (a.k.a. Bob and Doris Gardner). Long-time Race Director, Dan White, will be there in his new role as Race Mayor. And you will definitely want to give a special thanks to current Race Director, Bill Tilden. It will be easy to find him – he will be the one in the "hot pink" shirt.

But the main reason for coming out to support the Mattapoisett Road Race is simple. It is the quintessential "small town America" event. It represents what makes the 4th of July and our country so special.

Academic Achievements

The following Tri-Town residents made the Dean's List for spring 2013-2014 semester at Rochester Institute of Technology:

- Anya Cummings of Mattapoisett, who is in the mechanical engineering program in RIT's Kate Gleason College of Engineering; and
- Callum McLaughlin of Mattapoisett, who is in the mechanical engineering program in RIT's Kate Gleason College of Engineering.

Degree-seeking undergraduate students are eligible for Dean's List if their quarterly GPA is greater than or equal to 3.400; they do not have any grades of "Incomplete", "D" or "F"; and they have registered for, and completed, at least 12 credit hours.

Matthew Easterbrooks of Rochester was among a record number of graduates – 3,478 – presented with diplomas at UMass Lowell's 2014 Commencement Cow Chip Bingo at RCF!

Watch cows do their magic as they meander over 600 virtual squares of prime real estate at the Rochester Country Fair. This country-style fundraising event will take place on Thursday, August 14 at 65 Pine Street in Rochester. Gates open at 4:00 pm and cows will make their appearances around 8:00 pm. Come watch these well-fed cows take care of business and enjoy all the fun events, crafts and food that the fair offers.

How it works: 600 squares will be sold in this random game of chance. Each parcel of real estate costs only $5, so get your tickets before they're gone! Tickets will be sold in advance only and will not be sold at the Fair. Participants are randomly assigned a horizontal and vertical coordinate on the Cow-Chip Bingo game board.

The first place winning square will be the first cow plop made, followed by the second cow plop, then the third cow plop. Prizes of $500, $300 and $200 will be awarded in that order for the first, second and third cow plop. A complete list of rules and other event information can be found on the Fair's website at www.rochesterma.com.

Take your chance on the gastronomical actions of a cow while supporting the Rochester Country Fair! Tickets are on sale now by visiting Bev at Matt's Blackboard Café or by contacting any of the Fair Committee Members.

Obituaries:

Elizabeth L. "Betty" (Ryder) Roy, 68, of Rochester, passed away unexpectedly Friday, June 13, 2014, at Tobey Hospital, in Wareham. She was the wife of 48 years, of Lawrence L. Roy.

Born and raised in New Bedford, the daughter of the late James and Anna (Praztek) Ryder, she lived in Fairhaven prior to settling in Rochester 34 years ago.

She was a communicant of St. Mary's Church in Fairhaven.

Betty was an RP at various area rest homes. She loved animals especially her four cats.

She is survived by her husband; a son, James R. Roy of Rochester; a sister, Barbara Patrick of Johnston, RI and several nieces and nephews. Betty was the sister of the late Marilyn Sylvia.

In accordance with her wishes she will be cremated and a graveside service was held on Friday, June 20, 2014 in River-Side Cemetery, Fairhaven. Arrangements are by the Fairhaven Funeral Home, 117 Main Street, Fairhaven.

Floyd W. Taylor, 91, of Rochester passed away June 14, 2014 at Tobey Hospital. He was the widower of Florence J. (Snell) Taylor.

Mr. Taylor was born in New Bedford, son of the late Floyd H. and Lois M. (Brown) Taylor, and resided in Rochester most of his life. He was a U.S. Navy veteran of WWII and a special police officer in Rochester. He was the owner/operator of the former Rochester Cesspool until his retirement.

Survivors include 2 daughters: Patricia Tilton of New Bedford and Carol Taylor of Rochester; 2 sons: Edward Taylor of Chicago and Warren Taylor of FL; a stepdaughter: Janice Cocking of Montgomery, AL; a stepson: Charles Denault of Kittery, ME; a brother: Kenneth Taylor of MD; a sister: Betty Ashworth of Rochester; many grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great great-grandchildren; and several nieces & nephews.

A memorial visitation was held on Saturday, June 21, 2014, 4:00-6:00 P.M. at the Kirby Funeral Home, 61 Tarkiln Hill Road, New Bedford.

Funeral services will be private.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to the family c/o Kirby Funeral Home, 61 Tarkiln Hill Road, New Bedford, MA 02745.

Robert Montgomery Bunnell of Marion passed away peacefully in his sleep on Thursday, June 19, 2014 at the age of 95. He was born on June 10, 1919 in East Orange, New Jersey, the son of the late Alice Hazard (Ruton) Bunnell and Alfred Ranney Bunnell. He graduated from Rutgers University with a degree in engineering, where he was a member of Phi Gamma Delta, the college glee club, and the varsity basketball team. He was enrolled in the ROTC program and graduated as second lieutenant. Later, he received a master's degree in mathematics from Hofstra University and a master's degree in industrial engineering from Long Island University.

Upon graduation from college, he was ordered to active

Friends of Bike Path

The SouthCoast Bikeway Alliance (an Alliance of all South Coast Friends of Bike Paths) is announcing the First Annual South Coast Summer Bike Challenge. Do you enjoy bicycling? Would you like to start a mid-year fitness resolution? If so, join forces with others in your community in a Summer Bike Challenge. During the next three months – July, August and September – communities will compete against each other to log the most miles collectively on their bicycles. All you need to do is 1) Ride your bike whenever and wherever; 2) Log your miles online at the National Bike Challenge; and 3) Win big for your health and your community. Your online account shows you how many miles you have ridden, and you can compete with your friends. It's amazing how it all adds up. The winning community will have bragging rights and a trophy to display prominently in their city or town, until we do it next year. "Prizes" will be awarded at the conclusion of the event, with awards to: a) The Community that logs the most miles (per 1,000 residents); b) Individual leader - Male and Female; c) Senior leader - Male and Female over 65; d) Teen Leader - Male and Female; and e) Child Leader - 12 and under Male and Female. Register and learn more at <http://www.southcoastbikeway.com/>.

Keel Awards

The Wanderer is once again pleased to announce that we are now soliciting nominations for our 20th annual "Wanderer Keel Awards." The yearly community service honor – which is presented to one resident from each of the three central towns in our circulation area – will be announced in our July 24 edition, and each winner will be the subject of a short feature highlighting their contributions to the local community. But The Wanderer needs your help in selecting these "unsung heroes."

The requirements are simple. Nominees must be legal residents, for at least five years, of Mattapoisett, Marion or Rochester and must have contributed in some way to the overall benefit of the community – either directly to town residents, or indirectly through efforts in promoting town activities, or working to keep the wheels of local government well oiled. The only restriction is that these persons cannot benefit from their efforts in any other way – either financially or politically (hence, sitting elected officials are not eligible).

duty in World War II and was inducted into the US Army 566 Signal Aircraft Warning Battalion attached to the 9th Tactical Air Command. He served in the European Theatre as a Captain.

After the war, he was employed by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in New York City for five years. He was later employed by the Marine Division of the Sperry Gyroscope Corporation on Long Island, subsequently becoming the manager of the MacArthur Field facility. He remained at Sperry for 37 years. While living on Long Island, he was a member of the St. John's Church choir in Cold Spring Harbor, the Kiwanis Club, and volunteered at the Vanderbilt Museum.

In 1993, he retired to Marion, Massachusetts with his wife, Elizabeth Ross (Whittaker) Bunnell, a native of Marion having spent many happy summers there. As a member of St. Gabriel's Church he served on the vestry, the Missions Committee, and was a member of both the choral and handbell choirs. He was chairman of the Marion Elderly Housing Committee and a member of the town Water Subcommittee. He was an avid reader, bridge player and golf enthusiast and volunteered at the local soup kitchen.

He was predeceased by his wife of 56 years. He is survived by a daughter, Karen C. Bullock and her husband, Warren E. Bullock of Melville, NY, a daughter, Ann E. Bunnell of Hanover, NH, a son, Robert V. Bunnell of Marion, a granddaughter Sharon L. Klein and her husband, Jeremy R. Klein and great-grandson Warren J. Klein of Wantagh, NY, and a granddaughter, Melissa A. Bullock of Melville.

A memorial service will be held Saturday, June 28, 2014 at St. Gabriel's Church in Marion, MA at 11:00 a.m. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be made to either St. Gabriel's Church, P.O. Box 545, 124 Front Street, Marion, MA 02738 or Elizabeth Taber Library, 8 Spring Street, Marion, MA. Arrangements are by the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home for Funerals, 50 County Rd., Mattapoisett. For online condolence book, please visit www.saundersdwyer.com.

Greenwood "Sonny" Hartley, Jr., 87, a lifelong resident of Rochester died June 22, 2014 at Sippican Healthcare Center after a brief illness.

Sonny leaves a legacy of love and kindness. He shared 63 years of marriage with Shirley M. (Rhodes) Hartley. Together they raised three children and anchored a family of over 30 individuals.

He was the son of the late Greenwood and Katherine T. (Gifford) Hartley. He was a member of the Rochester Congregational Church.

He held many different types of jobs throughout his life, his favorite and most enjoyed was the 25 years as a salesman at Hiller Dodge in Marion.

He served his country during World War II as a member of the U.S. Navy. He served his Town in many elected and appointed positions, including two terms as a member of the Board of Selectmen.

He was a member and Past Master of the Pythagorean Lodge A.F. & A.M. and a past member of the Aleppo Shriners.

However, it is his natural loving, supporting and good nature that will be most fondly remembered. Whether sitting at a local ice rink or little league park and cheering on his grandchildren or great grandchildren, or sitting at home surrounded by them cheering on the Bruins, Red Sox or Patriots, he was forever the sports fan. During his retirement he spent many hours attending school plays, graduations and award ceremonies. Just weeks ago he attended his youngest granddaughter's college graduation and his great grandsons' baseball games.

Survivors include his wife; 3 children, Greenwood "Woody" Hartley, III and his wife Sharon, Marsha Ann Hartley and Walter Rhodes Hartley and his wife Sheldon L., all of Rochester; a brother, Henry A. Hartley and his wife Bonnie of Rochester; 7 grandchildren, Scott Greenwood Hartley, Amy Hartley-Matteson, Sarah Jane Cecil, Morgan Lee Cecil, Walter R. Hartley, Jr., Jon A. Hartley and Katherine A. Hartley; 16 great-grandchildren; 2 nephews, Raymond Hartley and Andrew Hartley and a niece, Heather Hartley-O'Shaughnessy. He is the brother of the late Katherine T. (Hartley) Church and Robert T. Hartley.

His Memorial Service will be held on Saturday, July 5th at 11 AM at the Rochester First Congregational Church. Arrangements are with the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home for Funerals, 50 County Rd., Route 6, Mattapoisett. In lieu of flowers, please make a donation in Sonny's name to your favorite charity. For on-line guestbook, please visit www.saundersdwyer.com.

If you have a notice you would like to have included in the Milestone section, please contact our office at : 508 758-9055, by fax at 508-758-4845, or by email at office@wanderer.com. Included in the Milestone Section is Birth Announcements, Obituaries, Engagement Notices, Wedding Notices, Anniversaries and Memorials.

In doing this, we hope to applaud those who are rarely recognized for their countless hours of service and focus on the many people "behind the scenes" who remain otherwise anonymous but provide crucial support to many town functions. Like the keel of a ship, which keeps the vessel from capsizing, the recipients of the Annual Wanderer Keel Award will be recognized for their stalwart efforts in keeping the community on an "even keel."

Past recipients of this honor include:

MOVIE REVIEW

The Old Days

By Rob Gonsalves

www.robsmovievault.com

Redwood Highway. Starring Shirley Knight and Tom Skerritt. Directed by Gary Lundgren. Running time: 90 minutes. MPAA rating: PG-13. Available now on iTunes and on DVD.

Judi Dench is fantastic, but there are other septuagenarian actresses. One such is Shirley Knight, who turns 78 in a couple of weeks, and who provides the rock-solid center for the perfectly pleasant comedy-drama Redwood Highway. Knight is Marie, a widow and grandmother who passes the days at an Oregon retirement community. The place looks comfy as such places go, but Marie hadn't planned to die there. She takes off, unannounced and without her resented cell phone, for lengthy walks by herself. This drives her adult son Michael (James Le Gros) nuts; she has a spiky, unstable relationship with him and with her granddaughter Naomi (Zena Grey), who's about to get married.

The embittered Naomi, who knows Marie doesn't approve of her fiancé, leaves her a message saying not to bother to come to the wedding. Marie, alas, is not the type who will do what she's told to do, or told not to do. She sets out on foot, again unannounced, with a backpack and a bit of food swiped from the community snack table, on the eighty-mile journey to the wedding site. The premise may sound similar to last year's overrated Nebraska, but I assure you this is the far better film, starting with the fact that Shirley Knight — who's in almost every scene — wipes the floor with Bruce Dern's monotonously irascible performance. Marie is what used to be called a "tough old broad," but also vulnerable and eventually grateful for help. Fairly quickly, she figures out she's not going to be able to make the trip solely on her own steam.

Knight's Marie may be the sort of stubborn person it's difficult to have in one's own life — there's some degree of sympathy for Michael, who moves heaven and earth to track Marie down once she goes missing from the community — but she's terrific company for an hour and a half. Marie moves briskly and with purpose, and she speaks the same way to people she isn't sure of. Knight makes her a tragicomic figure leaning towards comic; Marie doesn't pity herself, so we don't either. It helps that with one exception, when Marie happens across a couple of meth-heads at a deserted motel out in the boonies, everyone she meets is nice to her (and even one of the meth-heads doesn't want to cause her any trouble — she reminds him of his grandma). Redwood Highway thus becomes a fable of kindness. It's soothing, and no big points are being made for or against Marie or her rural surroundings (another reason I prefer it to Nebraska, which was nasty to everyone and everywhere on the screen).

Director Gary Lundgren picks the supporting cast well. Marie meets a widower played beautifully by Tom Skerritt, who reminds us of his effortless command of decency. There's one moment when Skerritt rests his head on Knight's shoulder, and it's incredibly intimate and romantic even though the plot steers clear of romance. Michelle Lombardo is warm and nurturing as a young bartender who insists on giving Marie a bed to sleep in for a night. Twin Peaks fans will be happy to see Catherine E. Coulson, the Log Lady herself, as Marie's best friend at the retirement community; her appearance is brief but winningly tremulous. None of these people are ridiculed; the script, by Lundgren and James Twyman, allows each character his or her humanity, and we feel they all have lives outside of Marie's story, perhaps worthy of their own movies. About Skerritt's character, who still tends the "artisan art" shop he and his wife once started, I would happily know more. And what about one of Marie's old flames, a deaf old duffer who lives off the grid with, unaccountably, a Sex Pistols "God Save the Queen" sticker in the front window of his cabin?

Redwood Highway moves at Marie's pace, strong and purposeful, and arrives smoothly at its conclusion. Shirley Knight's bullheaded performance reassures us that Marie will carry out her adventure, that she isn't going to expire of a heart attack out in the woods or something stupidly melodramatic like that. Sometimes we don't want to have to worry about what's going to happen next in a movie; sometimes we just want to be pleasurably curious about what happens next, and we like Marie and want to be with her on her journey. The film's synopsis tells us that Marie "discovers that you're never too old to learn something about life and about yourself"; please ignore that, because it makes the movie sound much more softheaded than it is. It is, among other things, a sharp distaff rejoinder to the male-centered, sour-faced Nebraska; it's what Nebraska might have been if it had forgotten about Bruce Dern and Will Forte and gone off to follow June Squibb.

With summer about to begin, both according to the calendar and the ending of the school year, the library staff invites residents and friends to send their summer photos to be considered for the cover photo on the library's Facebook page.

Each week the library will choose a picture for the cover photo on Facebook, giving credit to the photographer. The photo might include family outings, Mattapoisett scenes, and summer fun. Photos will also be printed and shared on a board in the library for everyone to enjoy during a visit to the library.

"We hope to share some great photos of the summer season in our community", said Susan Pizzoloto, Library Director. "Summer is a wonderful time here in Mattapoisett, and the library would like to share photos of special moments and scenes taken by residents and friends. This is a great chance to show everyone your favorite summer photo!"

All are invited to submit photos via e-mail at mfpl@sailsinc.org, and photos will be posted through Labor Day. And, don't forget to follow the Mattapoisett Free Public Library on Facebook to learn about summer programs and services for all ages.

Vendors Sought for Country Fair

The Rochester Country Fair is seeking interested vendors for participation in the upcoming Rochester Country Fair. The Fair, now in its 15th year, features a unique mix of old-fashioned events and contests, a parade, woodsman show, tractor pulls and so much more.

This year's "Team Spirit" Theme Fair will be held on Thursday, August 14 thru Sunday, August 17 at 65 Pine Street in Rochester. Craft vendor booth spaces

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A change of season reinvigorates the Lamb, helping to overcome the effects of a recent slower-paced period. This is a good time to restate your feelings for that certain someone.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You might not like using your authority to correct a workplace situation, but that's what being placed in charge is all about. Besides, you have people ready to lend support if need be.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Your creativity continues to run high and helps guide you to make some fine choices in the work you're doing. Keep the weekend free for those special people in your life.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Don't be surprised if you experience a sudden spurt of energy strong enough to pull you out of that recent period of indecision and put you back in charge of your own goals.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) This is a good time for Leos and Leonas to set new goals regarding health, educational choices and possible career moves. The plans you make now could be a blueprint for your future.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You might have much to offer a potential employer, but it can all be overwhelmed by too many details. Let the facts about you speak for themselves without any embellishments.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) This is a good week to balance your responsibilities to your work-a-day world with your obligations to the people in your private life. Expect news that could lead to a change in plans.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A changing attitude on the part of a once determined adversary could cause changes down the line. Be prepared to take advantage of an unexpected new opportunity.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You'd be a truly wise Sagittarius to be skeptical about an offer that doesn't answer all your questions. Even a colleague's testimonial doesn't replace facts that aren't there.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) It's a good idea to avoid spending on unnecessary purchases this week in order to keep a money reserve against a possible upcoming (but, fortunately, temporary) shortfall.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) More information is what you should demand regarding that workplace situation that recently came to light. Don't be surprised at who might turn up as one of your supporters.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You might still be in a "treading water" mode, but by midweek, a shift in your aspect favors taking a more active role in pushing for the changes you feel are necessary. Good luck.

BORN THIS WEEK: You exude a warm, caring attitude that comforts everyone who comes into your life.

MNHM Summer Programs

Come and enjoy the summer in Marion with the Marion Natural History Museum's Summer Programs.

Life along the Shore: During this program, we will be visiting the shoreline and exploring the plants and animals that live in our area's many coastal habitats. With the use of games, journals, introductory science techniques and hands-on activities, this will be a wonderful first look at life in our coastal environment. For students entering grades 1 and 2.

Coastal Explorations I & II: The Coastal Explorations I program will feature explorations of our rocky intertidal shoreline, salt marshes, estuaries as well as freshwater riverbanks, swamps, ponds and bogs. We will look at the birds, amphibians, fish and invertebrates that make these areas so special. For students entering grades 3 and 4.

During our Coastal Explorations II program, we will further enjoy the unique habitats Marion has to offer, including several field trips to expand our knowledge of our Coastal and Freshwater ecosystems. For students

Marion Town Events Calendar

The Town of Marion, in conjunction with the Friends of the Marion Council on Aging, is pleased to make available an online Town Events calendar through the Town of Marion website, www.marionma.gov. Our goals for the Events calendar are to:

- Increase citizen awareness of and participation in community-wide events;
- Provide non-profit, Marion organizations the vehicle to list/post their events on the Town website; and
- Decrease scheduling conflicts among Marion organizations.

The Events calendar is a free service provided for and maintained by the Town of Marion. It is now available to Marion non-profit organizations and can be used to promote educational, social, cultural, athletic, or recreational events open to the general public. All calendar listings must follow the Town of Marion guidelines and be submitted using the online Event Notice form that can be obtained from the calendar editor, Michele Bissonnette, Assistant Town Clerk, mbissonnette@marionma.gov.

reception honoring the artists from 6:00 to 8:00 pm.

All artist members in good standing of the Marion Art Center are invited to submit two pieces for this non-juried exhibition. Artists should drop off their work on Tuesday, July 15 from 1:00 to 5:00 pm. The exhibition will run until August 16.

The Marion Art Center is located at the corner of Main Street and Pleasant Street in Marion. Gallery Hours: Tuesday through Friday from 1:00 to 5:00 pm and Saturdays from 10:00 am to 2:00 pm. The Gallery is open to the public and admission is free.

The Dixie Swim Club: When the Marion Art Center produced five performances of The Dixie Swim Club in March of 2014, three of the five shows completely sold out and the other two were very nearly sell outs. So when plans for a summer musical fell through, the Theater Committee and director Rex McGraw knew that they already had a hit on their hands and decided to offer it again to the summer community. It is the perfect entertainment for a hot summer's evening! If you missed this production in March, don't hesitate to make your reservations now!

Performing four shows only, the Marion Art Center's production of The Dixie Swim Club, a comedy by Jessie Jones, Nicholas Hope and Jamie Wooten will open on Friday, July 25 and will run on Saturday, July 26, Friday, August 1 and Saturday, August 2. All shows start at 7:30 pm. The all-female production in two acts is directed by Rex McGraw and features Marion Art Center Players Suzie Kokkins, Suzy Taylor, Michele Letourneau, Kim Teves and Linda Landry.

Enduring friendships are among the most important aspects of human existence. They sustain us when all else fails — marriages, children, careers, investments. The Dixie Swim Club, in many ways a companion piece to Steel Magnolias, celebrates the best of women's relationships and the best aspects of Southern culture. And if you loved the quick repartee and situational comedy of TV's "The Golden Girls," you will love this show as writers Jessie Jones, Nicholas Hope and Jamie Wooten all worked on that show.

The five Southern women, whose friendships began many years ago on their college swim team, set aside a long weekend every August to recharge those relationships. Free from husbands, kids and jobs, they meet at the same beach cottage on North Carolina's Outer Banks to catch up, laugh and meddle in each other's lives. In the case of The Dixie Swim Club, their worlds revolve around those weekends at their cottage, and they're at their happiest when they're with one another, a cocktail in one hand and a biscuit in the other.

The Dixie Swim Club focuses on four of those weekends and spans a period of thirty-three years. Sheree (played by Kim Teves), the spunky team captain, who has married their swim coach's son, desperately tries to maintain her organized and "perfect" life, and continues to be the group's leader. Dinah (played by Linda Landry), the wisecracking overachiever, is a lawyer dynamo. But her victories in the courtroom are in stark contrast to the frustrations of her personal life. Lexie (played by Suzie Kokkins), pampered and outspoken, is determined to hold on to her looks and youth as long as possible. She enjoys being married – over and over and over again. The self-deprecating and acerbic Vernadette (played by Michele Letourneau), acutely aware of the dark cloud that hovers over her life, has decided to just give in and embrace the chaos. And sweet, eager-to-please Jeri Neal (played by Suzy Taylor) experiences a late entry into motherhood that takes them all by surprise. As their lives unfold and the years pass, these women increasingly rely on one another, through advice and raucous repartee, to get through the challenges – men, sex, marriage, parenting, divorce, aging – that life flings at them. And when fate throws a wrench into one of their lives in the second act, these friends, proving the enduring power of “teamwork,” rally ‘round their own with the strength and love that takes this comedy in a poignant and surprising direction.

By the time The Dixie Swim Club reaches its final act, the characters are in their late 70s, and we’ve seen 33 years unfold inside the small cottage. The story has heart. You can’t watch characters develop relationships and not get attached to them. Some of the developments are sad, some surprising, some satisfying. But the story’s serious side isn’t half as good as the humor.

To make a reservation, please call 508-748-1266. Guests are invited to bring their own refreshments. Cabaret tables are available for reserved parties of four. Reservations are highly recommended as this is sure to be a sellout! Tickets are $12.50 for MAC members and $15 for the general public. PET PICK

Meet Oliver (a male tiger) and Haddie (a female tortie). Both 2 and both adopted as kittens from It's All About the Animals. They have very different personalities. Oliver loves his family, but is shy with strangers. Haddie loves people, is adventurous and behaves like a dog. They both enjoy chasing a laser pointer. They are very well loved!

Each week we will showcase pets from our readers and the stories behind them. Send in your pet pictures and stories so we can share them with all our readers. By Email: support@wanderer.com • By Mail: P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisett, MA 02739 • Or stop by in person: 55 County Road (Route 6), Mattapoisett

A wide variety of fine art and artisanal crafts will be displayed in tents throughout the Park. Arts in the Park is a juried show and sale featuring local artists and artisans who will be offering jewelry, glass, paintings and prints, baskets, ceramics, textiles, collage, photography, turned, carved and painted wood, garden sculpture and garden furniture. Over forty-five artists and artisans will be exhibiting their work. There will be live entertainment by the Showstoppers of Mattapoissett, and the New Bedford Museum of Art's ArtMobile will be on hand to provide art projects for kids from 11:00 am to 2:00 pm. Food and beverages will be offered by Harriett's catering.

There will be a raffle of art work which has been donated by the artist exhibitors. Raffle tickets will be $1 and can be purchased throughout the day. The proceeds of the raffle will benefit the Marion Art Center.

This year's exhibitors will include ceramic artists Kim Barry, Chrissy Feiteira, Karen Zaharee, Tessa Morgan, and Pat Warwick. Fiber creations will be offered by Liz Howland (hand dyed silk scarves and shawls), Cindy Walsh, Sue Handman, Heather Kidson, and Mary Monteiro. There will be Nantucket Baskets by William Judd. Fine jewelry will be offered by Emily Condon, Lynn Hahn, Trish Kozub, Karen Silvia, Donna Andrews-Maness, Julie Kohaya, Lisa Cutler, Marcia Livada, and Harmony Winters. Paintings, prints, photographs and collage will be offered by Mary Ross, Sarah Brown, Kim Weineck, Alice Shire, Jae Shaughnessy, Donna Secour,

SLT Peirson Woods Storywalk

The Sippican Lands Trust is currently offering a posted storywalk at our Peirson Woods property. Pages from Forest Bright, Forest Night, written by Jennifer Ward and illustrated by Jamicheal Henterly, are laminated and posted along a well-marked nature trail. Storywalks are fun and encourage literature in nature for all ages. We hope you enjoy it!

Peirson Woods is located on Point Road in Marion. Take a right off of Route 6 west onto Creek Road. Then take a right onto Point Rd. Peirson Woods is located approximately ½ a mile down on the right. It is marked with a kiosk sign and has parking available.

Founded in 1974, the Sippican Lands Trust strives to acquire and protect natural areas in Marion. Its purpose is to conserve land, protect habitat, provide public access to the beautiful, protected lands of our town and offer events for nature lovers of all ages!

Please do not hesitate to contact Executive Director Robin Shields at 508-748-3080. Visit us on Facebook and www.sippicanlandstrust.org.

anonymous donor and the Sippican Historical Society. The Committee is deeply grateful for these wonderful contributions that will greatly enhance the comfort and enjoyment of audiences for the many civic and cultural activities held at the Music Hall.

For information on various programs held at the Music Hall by organizations such as the Sippican Historical Society, Elizabeth Taber Library and Marion Council on Aging, as well as other local venues, you can now consult the Town of Marion's Events calendar at http://www.marionma.gov/Pages/MarionMA_Eventscal/.

Increased use of the Music Hall has led to more awareness of the maintenance issues it faces, and the Committee is very pleased to be working actively with the town's new Facilities Manager, Shaun Cormier, to ensure the long-term 'health' of this historic building. We look forward to honoring the vision of Elizabeth Taber when she built the Music Hall in 1891, as well as the generosity of another benefactress whose large donation in 1995 provided funds for a major renovation to the building as well as an endowment.

The focus now is on stabilizing the Hall's foundation, increasing handicap access, upgrading the kitchen, replacing the furnace, redoing the interior painting and floors, as well as furnishing the Reading Room. Excellent assistance from many local volunteers has proved invaluable, and the Committee welcomes any and all suggestions as the project moves forward.

Anyone who wishes to be involved in the Music Hall's improvement initiative is encouraged to contact Phyllis Washburn at myswan@verizon.net.
